

Linden Blossom Perfume Oil

a sweet, floral, and woody perfume oil

Ingredients

- 1 gram Linden Blossom Total CO2 Extract
- 0.5 gram Neroli Essential Oil
- 0.5 gram Sandalwood Essential Oil
- 35 grams Clear Jojoba Oil
- 5 1/3 oz. Roll-On Bottles
- 15 miniature Dried Flowers

Makes about 5 1/3-ounce roll-on bottles

Directions:

1. Combine linden blossom extract and jojoba in a heat-proof jar or beaker. Warm the ingredients in a hot water bath, or by heating the jar in the microwave for 30-60 seconds.
2. When the linden blossom extract has melted, add neroli and sandalwood essential oil and stir well.
3. Cut stems of the dried flowers so that they will fit inside the roller bottle. Carefully insert the flowers, using a chopstick or pencil to gently poke them as needed.
4. Pour the perfume oil into each bottle, until it reaches the bottom of the bottle's neck. Do not overfill.
5. Carefully press the roller ball neck and ball inserts into each bottle and screw on lids.

Usage & Packaging:

- We used our 1/3 oz. Roll-On Bottles with Black Caps for this recipe, which are perfect for applying natural perfume oils.
- This recipe is quite stable, and should be usable for several years. Over time, the scent of the perfume may change as it matures. This is typical, and something to be embraced, as perfumes often age well.
